

CALL FOR TUTORIALS

The Organizing Committee of the 18th International Conference on Information Fusion is inviting the submission of proposals for tutorials to be presented on July 6, 2015. The main purpose of the tutorial program is to provide overviews of the state of the art in the particular subfields of Information Fusion. This program can be useful to both the newcomers to the Information Fusion community to learn about the research achievements of the particular areas, as well as to the currently active Information Fusion researchers who may be interested in widening their areas of research interest.

Proposals for tutorials should cover not only the areas listed in the Call for Papers (Theory and Representation, Algorithms, Modeling simulation and evaluation and Applications), but also other areas where Information Fusion can or should be applicable. Examples include but are not limited to fusion of human-produced and unstructured information, Big Data analytics, fusion of information in the cloud, cyber security applied to Information Fusion and the use of fusion algorithms for cyber security.

Tutorial Proposals Should Include:

- The title of the proposed tutorial
- The intended audience
- A description of the tutorial, including the learning objectives and a short summary of the material to be presented
- Prerequisites for the background knowledge of the participants
- Biographical sketch(es) of the instructor(s)

Submission Instructions

Proposals should be submitted via email to: Tutorials@fusion2015.org

Important Deadlines:

- Deadline for submissions: February 15, 2015
- Selection of proposals by the Organizing Committee by March 15, 2015.
